Possessing a strong knowledge of the Australian Curriculum and associated syllabus materials is essential. We are looking for an individual who willingly collaborates and contributes to the life of the English Department and the College. A willingness to employ alternative pedagogies to enhance student engagement would be considered a favourable quality.

Teachers should demonstrate the following qualities:

- Use of a wide range of pedagogies that enhance student engagement and performance.
- Proficiency in the use of digital resources with a proven ability to learn new skills.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills in interactions with other staff, students and parents.
- Positive in their willingness to build relationships with students.
- Familiarity with the SEQTA Suite and interactive whiteboards an advantage but not essential.

The successful applicant will be required to be an active participant in teamwork able to collaborate with the dedicated team of professionals that forms our teaching staff.

Teachers are expected to take a keen interest in the pastoral welfare of their Pastoral Care Group (homeroom), supported by leadership, specialist subject teachers and specialist support staff. In addition, teachers are encouraged to actively participate in a cross-curricular approach and demonstrate a willingness to work with leaders and other subject teachers in a Professional Learning Community designed to maximize the opportunities for academic success for all of the students they teach.

As with all teaching positions at Prendiville Catholic College, the ability to teach Religious Education would be a distinct advantage, as is the ability to teach in more than one subject area. Preferred applicants must actively support the Catholic ethos of the College. All staff are expected to be involved in the full life of the College.
